I am listing out things in verbose, so that one can follow what I generally do for this:

- 1. Check the templates (for this case: ipv6only-Ubuntu 20.10 and public-Ubuntu 20.10
 - 1.1 Ensure the owner of these templates is oneadmin and they belong to the group oneadmin
 - 1.2 Make sure that USE permission is granted to all (Owner, Group and Others) and MANAGE permission is granted to Owner
 - 1.3 Make sure the image used by the template (for this case: ubuntu-groovy-2020-10-25) has USE permission granted to all (Owner, Group and Others) and MANAGE permission to Owner
- 2. Login to the server ({staging/prod/dev}.ungleich.ch) and import the template

```
[pccoder@archlinux ~]$ ssh app@ungleich.ch
X11 forwarding request failed on channel 0
Linux dynamicweb-production 3.16.0-4-amd64 #1 SMP Debian 3.16.51-3 (2017-12-13) x86_64

- 3. Enable them in the various calculators using django admin user team@ungleich.ch (Ask mondy or sanghee if anything is not clear in the CMS)
 - 3.1 Landing pages (dcl/ipv6only) /
 - 3.2 Hosting pages (dcl/ipv6only) /createvm

#3 - 10/26/2020 03:01 PM - Mondy Ravi

- Status changed from Seen to In Progress

Tested the templates on staging. Both dcl/ipv6only work like a charm.

Putting them on production now.

#4 - 10/26/2020 03:13 PM - Mond Ravi

- Status changed from In Progress to Feedback
- Assignee changed from Mond Ravi to Sanghee Kim

Ubuntu 20.10 is now available on all our calculators.
